New Consulting Firm Focuses on Law Firm Performance and Profitability

New York, NY (April 22, 2013) – This month, legal administration veteran Vincent M. Bell has launched Upstream Consulting Group, a legal services consulting firm. Located in New York, but working nationally, Upstream is taking a new approach to providing legal consulting services. Unlike other consulting firms, Upstream will advise clients on a variety of issues but will also offer implementation services. “Upstream believes that a project is not completed when a report is delivered,” says Bell. “Once the analytical work is done, Upstream then offers to implement its recommendations for our clients and leave them with improved business processes which lead to increased profitability.”

Upstream offers a variety of consulting services for the legal and professional services industries, including Growth Strategies, Outsourcing, Real Estate and Space Planning, Re-Engineering and Workouts, Financial Analysis, Billing and Collections, Human Resources, and Project Management. Upstream customizes its services to meet the unique needs of a particular client. Its goal is to insure that its clients benefit from the most sophisticated current thinking in law firm administration.

Vincent Bell has extensive legal administration experience including more than 20 years as the lead administrator in large national and international law firms. He has a deep understanding of the legal market and is excited to leverage his experience to serve his clients which will enable them to optimize their operations and improve their financial performance.
